The R.A 1425 or Rizal Law

- The study of life and works of Jose Rizal started when the government-mandated law in 1956. It was noted that several debates happened in the part of those in favor and against. The government considered several points as to why Rizal's relevance to the Filipino, an inspiration for nation-building, a symbol of nationalism and patriotism, and a hero that gave huge importance to education. The government took that step believing that with citizenry infused with the spirit and idealism of Rizal, the country would be on its way to national progress.

Manunulat: Sen. Claro M. Recto

Iba pang mga kilalang personalidad

- Sen. Jose P. Laurel (co-author)
- Senators Mariano J. Cuenco,
- Francisco Rodrigo, and Decoroso
- Rosales (pro-catholic)
- Judge Guillermo Guevarra
- Fr. Jesus Cavana
- Sen. Lim
- Pres. Ramon Magsaysay

Lugar: Philippines, June 1950

The R.A 1425 or Rizal Law

It is an act enacted on June 12, 1956. It directs all public and private schools, colleges, and universities to include in their curricula course or subject the life, works, and writings of Jose Rizal, particularly his two novels, the Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo.

FULL NAME OF THE LAW: An act to include in the curricula of all public and private schools, colleges, and universities, courses on the life, works, and writings Jose Rizal, particularly his novels Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterisismo, authorizing the printing and distribution thereof, and for other purposes.

Personalities behind Rizal Law

- Claro M. Recto (Main Author or Rizal Law) - A brilliant man, a nationalist, and parliamentarian who fought tooth-and-nail to get the Rizal Bill passed into law in 1956. His deep knowledge in history and law showed his authority on life and works of Rizal.
- Jose P. Laurel - A man who also believed in the greatest contribution of Rizal to the country and decided to support Recto's stand. He sponsored the Rizal bill in the senate. He also proposed an amendment on the substituted bill to put the stability and fairness of the measures.
    - Co-author of Rizal Law
    - Chairman, Senate Committee on Education

Groups supporting the bill

1. Veteranos de la Revolucion

2. Alagad ni Rizal

3. Freemasons

4. Knights of Rizal

Oppositions to the Bill

- Francisco Rodrigo (Opposed the Rizal Bill) - a proud son of Bulacan province, counting as relatives such heroes as the brothers Gregorio and Marcelo H. del Pilar, and masterfully composing prose and poetry in his native Tagalog language. Widely known as Soc Rodrigo – the nickname, from the Greek philosopher Socrates, came from a teacher impressed by the young man's keen mind – Rodrigo was a lawyer, an orator and champion debater.

- Mariano J. Cuenco (Opposed the bill in Congress)- Mariano Jesus L. Cuenco was born in Carmen, Cebu on January 16, 1888 to Mariano A. Cuenco and Remedios Lopez. He studied at the Colegio de San Carlos of Cebu where he graduated in 1904 with a degree in Bachelor of Arts. He finished law in 1911 at the Escuela de Derecho (later became the Manila Law School) and passed the bar examinations in 1913.

- Decoroso Rosales - was born on December 20, 1907 in Calbago, Calbayog City to Basilio Rosales and Aqueda Ras. He finished Associate of Arts degree in 1920 and Bachelor of Laws degree both from the University of the Philippines

- Fr. Jesus Cavanna - Rev. Fr. Jesús María Cavanna y Manso, C.M., - was a Catholic priest from the order of the Congregation of the Mission, more commonly known as the Vincentian Fathers. He was the author of Rizal's Unfading Glory published in 1956, a documentary of Jose Rizal's conversion to Catholicism. Another book Fr. Cavanna wrote is the Basic Christian Doctrine.

Groups opposing the bill

1. Catholic Action of the Philippines

2. Congregation of the Mission

3.Knights of Columbus

4. Catholic Teachers Guild

Ramon Magsaysay - (born Aug. 31, 1907, Iba, Phil.—died March 17, 1957, near Cebu) was the president of the Philippines (1953–57), best known for successfully defeating the communist-led Hukbalahap (Huk) movement.

- During his term, Rizal law was signed and enacted.

Trials of Rizal Law

Before the R.A 1425 was enacted as a law, it faced numerous oppositions and backlash from the congress and senate, with the Church leading the opposition.

Timeline of how Senate Bill no. 438 Became R.A 1425:

Senate Bill no. 438 - An Act to make Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo compulsory reading matter in all public and private colleges and universities and for other purposes.

- It was filed on April 03, 1956

April 3-17, 1956 - It was filed by the Committee on Education on April 3, 1956, and was called Senate Bill No. 438 and was supported by all but 3 of the members of the Upper house and seemed, to all appearances, non-controversial.

April 17, 1956 - Senator Jose P. Laurel as Chairman of the Committee on Education, began his sponsorship of the Bill. It started a long battle for recognition.

Senator Jose P. Laurel

- To disseminate the ideas and ideals of the great Filipino Patriot through the reading of his works, particularly Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo.

- Emphasized the need to read the 2 novels for its reflection of our strengths and weaknessess.
- It encourages us, Filipino, to become conscious and learn to prepare for painful sacrifices that lead to self - reliance, self-respect, and freedom.

Senator Claro M. Recto

To foster the better appreciation of Rizal's times and of the role he played in combatting Spanish tyranny in this country.

OPPOSITIONS FROM BOTH UPPER AND LOWER HOUSE

UPPER HOUSE

The bill was heavily opposed by three Senators namely:

Senator Francisco Rodrigo who was a former Catholic Action President, Senator Mariano Cuenco and Senator Decoroso Rosales who was the brother of Julio Rosales, an archbishop.

LOWER HOUSE

Other oppositors were from the Lower House namely:

Congressmen Ramon Durano, Marciano Lim, Jose Nuguid, Manuel Soza, Godofredo Ramos, Miguel Cuenco, Lucas Paredes, Congressmen Carmen Consing and Tecia San Andres Ziga.

April 19, 1956

- Another conflict arisen when an identical bill, the House Bill no. 5561, was introduced by then Congressman Jacobo Z. Gonzales.

It was criticized due to its constitutionality and religiosity.

April 23, 1956

- Debate and deliberations on Senate Bill no. 438 started.
- Senator Laurel was supported by a colleague and ardent nationalist, Senator Claro M. Recto

OPPOSITIONS STATED THEIR ARGUMENTS

- Senator Rodrigo: "Let us not create a conflict between nationalism and religion; between the government and the church."
- Jose Ma. Hernandez, Chancellor of San Sebastian College and President of Catholic Action of the Philippines stated the SB 438 is "pedagogically unsound on the ground that the youth enrolled in country's colleges and universities are immature and incapable of reading Rizal".
- Fr. Jesus Cavana from Order of St. Vicente de Paul stated "it would be dangerous to expose young minds to possible perversion against the Catholic Church"
- They threatened punish lawmakers in the future elections
- Catholic schools threatened to close down their schools

SUPPORTERS STATED THEIR ARGUMENTS

- Judge Guillermo Guevarra prompted Fr. Jesus Cavana on his claims that the characters in the Noli may present an imminent danger in the mind of the youth. Guillermo stated, "the Church has nothing to fear unless of course, they are afraid that such practices still exist....."

- The gist of Senator Claro M. Recto's arguments was that the state is competent to require the reading of Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo in our public and private schools.
- The bill was created to foster a better appreciation of Rizal's times and of the role he played in combatting Spanish tyranny.
- He added that Rizal aims for CNPP (civic conscience, national identity, personal pride, and patriotism) of Filipinos.
- The state could nationalize the catholic schools.

CATHOLIC OPPOSITIONS AND OTHERS

Oppositions argue that the bill would go against freedom of conscience and religion.

Fr. Jesus Cavanna: The novels "belong to the past" and it would be "harmful" to read them because they presented a "false picture" of conditions in the country at that time. The Noli Me Tangere is an "attack on the clergy" and its object was to "put to ridicule the Catholic Faith." He alleged that the novel was not really patriotic because of the 333 pages only 25 contained patriotic passages while 120 were devoted to anti-Catholic attacks.

Pastoral Letter: 170 passages from the Noli and 50 from the Fili which it regarded as attacks on the doctrines and dogmas of the Catholic Church.

Jesus Paredes, a radio commentator: Some parts of the novels had been declared "objectionable" matter by the hierarchy, Catholics had the right to refuse to read them so as not to "endanger their salvation."

Narciso Pimentel Jr, another radio commentator: The bill was Recto's revenge against the Catholic voters who, together with Magsaysay, were responsible for his poor showing in the 1955 senatorial elections.

May 02, 1956 - The Committee on Education gave a report recommending approval without amendment, the discussion also revolved on the constitutionality and the property of the measure and this battle drew public attention

May 09, 1956 - Debate started in the House of Representatives on both HB no. 5561 and SB 483

Sen. Laurel proposed an amendment by substitution with combination of other ideas of two senator, Sen. Lim and Senator Primicias

- works written by Rizal included while the unexpurgated novels would not compulsory and will only be strictly observe in college level.
- exemption of students if they feel it will affect their faith
- additional amendments that promulgates the rules and regulations in getting exemption.

May 14,1956 - The substitute bill of Sen. Laurel was amended and approved on second reading in the Upper House

May 14-17, 1956 - Senate Bill No. 438 was approved on third reading with 23 votes in favor. House Bill No. 5561 was approved on the third reading with 71 votes in favor.

May 17, 1956 - Both amendments for Senate and House of Representatives versions were approved.

June 12,1956 - The bill was signed into law by then President Ramon Magsaysay, giving birth to R.A 1425 or Rizal Law

The law took effect on August 16, 1956

Originally proposed in Senate Bill 438	The Rizal Law/ RA 1425 approved by Pres. Magsaysay on June 12, 1956
Title: An Act to Make Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo Compulsory Reading Matter in all Public and Private Colleges and Universities and for Other Purposes	Title: An Act to include in the Curricula of all Public and Private Schools, Colleges and Universities Courses on the Life, Works and Writings of Jose Rizal, Particularly his Novels Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo, Authorizing the Printing and Distribution Thereof, and for Other Purposes.
Section 1. Jose Rizal's Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo are hereby declared compulsory reading matter in all public and private schools, colleges and universities in the Philippines	Section 1. Courses on life, works and writings of Jose Rizal, particularly his novel Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo, shall be included in the curricula of all schools, colleges and universities, public or private: Provided, That in the collegiate courses, the original or unexpurgated editions of the Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo or their English translation shall be used as basic texts. [(of a text) complete and containing all original material; uncensored.] xxx The Board (of National Education) shall promulgate rules and regulations providing for the exemption of students for reasons of religious belief stated in a sworn written statement, from the requirement of the provision contained in the second part of the first paragraph of this section; but not from taking course provided for in the first part of said paragraph. Said rules and regulations shall take effect thirty (3) days after their publication in the Official Gazette.

PHILIPPINES IN 19TH CENTURY

ENCOMIENDA SYSTEM

King Philip II instructed Legazpi to divide the Philippines into large territories called encomiendas, to be left to the management of designated encomenderos.

SOCIO-ECONOMIC SITUATION

Philippine society was predominantly feudalistic, the result of the Spanish landholding system imposed upon the country with the arrival of the conquistadores. An elite class exploited the masses, fostered by the "master-slave" relationship between the Spaniards and the Filipinos.

Social Structure:

- High Class
- Middle Class
-Low Class

HIGH CLASS

PENINSULARES- they are pure- blooded Spaniards born in Iberian Peninsula, Spain and Portugal. They also hold highest positions in the government.

INSULARES-pure-blooded Spaniards born in the Philippines.

FRIARS- members of any of certain religious orders of men, especially the four mendicant orders (Augustinians, Carmelites, Dominicans, and Franciscans).

MIDDLE CLASS

NATIVES- the pure Filipinos.

MESTIZOS- are the Filipinos of mixed indigenous Filipino or European or SPANISH MESTIZOS- those born of Spanish and native parentage were discriminated against by full-blooded Spaniards.

CHINESE MESTIZOS- were children of Chinese & Indio parents controlled the local economy, they were the landowners, artisan, merchants, masons, retailers wholesales, etc.

LOW CLASS

INDIOS- are the poor people having pure blood which ruled by by the Spaniards.

NEGRITOS- full blooded Aeta, Batak, or Mamanwa (indigenous people)

ECONOMIC SITUATION

By the late 18th century, political and economic changes in Europe were finally beginning to affect Spain and, thus, the Philippines. Important as a stimulus to trade was the gradual elimination of the monopoly enjoyed by the galleon to Acapulco.

Economic Developments (Agriculture & International Trade)

Other Developments (Revolution & Nationalism)

POLITICAL SITUATION

The Spanish king ruled the Islands through the viceroy of Mexico, which was then another Spanish colony. When Mexico regained its freedom in 1821, the Spanish king ruled the Philippines through a governor general. A special government body that oversaw matters, pertaining to the colonies assisted the king in this respect.

From King Philip II - whose name of the country came from, up to Queen Isabela II, the Philippines was ruled for 333 years and was governed through Spanish government system.

Government structure (Spanish Royal Palace)

Colonial Government (Executive: Governor-General & Judicial : Royal Audencia, Residencia, Lower Courts)

EXECUTIVE:
GOVERNOR- GENERAL

Miguel Lopez De Legazpi - Appointed by the Spanish monarch headed the central administration in Manila. He was the king's representative in all state and religious matters, and as such, he exercised extensive powers. He has the power to appoint and dismiss public officials, except personally chosen by the Spanish monarch

Diego De los Rios - Last Governor-General before Spain transferred Philippines to United States.

JUDICIAL:

RESIDENCIA - This was a special judicial court that investigates the performance of a governor general who was about to be replaced. The residencia, of which the incoming governor general was usually a member, submitted a report of its findings to the King.

VISITADOR GENERAL - The Council of the Indies in Spain sent a government official called the Vistador General to observe conditions in the colony. The Visitador General reported his findings directly to the King.

ROYAL AUDIENCIA - Apart from its judicial functions, the Royal Audiencia served as an advisory body to the Governor General and had the power to check and a report on 'his abuses. The Audiencia also audited the expenditures of the colonial government and sent a yearly report to Spain.

LOCAL GOVERNMENTS - The Spaniards created local government units to facilitate the country's administration.

Provincial Governments (Alcaldia & Corregimiento)

ALCALDIA - These are places that is subjugated, or the Spaniards have a total control of. They are governed by Alcalde Mayor.

CORREGIMIENTO - These are places that the Spaniards don't have a total control. They are governed by Corregidor.

Local Governments (Ayuntamiento & Municipal Government)

AYUNTAMIENTO - They are headed by Alcaldes en ordinario and Cabillo.
Cabillo or council is composed of:

Alcalde (Mayor) Regidores (Councilors) Alguacil Mayor (Police Chief) Escribando (Secretary)

MUNICIPAL - Each province was divided into several towns or pueblos headed by Gobernadorcillos, whose main concerns were efficient governance and tax collection.

Four aides of Gobernadorcillo
Teniente Mayor (Chief Lieutenant)
Teniente de Policia (Police Lieutenant)

Teniente de Sementeras (Lieutenant of the Fields
) Teniente de Ganados (Lieutenant of Livestocks)

GOBERNADORCILLO – They must be a native or Chinese mestizo, 25 years old, can read and write Spanish language and Cabeza de barangay for 4 years.

BARANGAY OR BARRIO – Smallest unit of government controlled by Cabeza de Barangay

FRAILOCRACIA – An invisible government, meaning "rule of friars"
the rulers of political unit
• supervisor of local elections
• administrators of schools
• chairman of the board of taxation, health, charity
• registrar for census taking

EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

• Parochial missionaries schools with Spanish
• Friars decided what to teach
• Students were required to memorize the contents of the book even without understanding
• Filipinos were instructed in the vernacular·
• Classes held on the ground floor of the convent

TYPES OF SCHOOLS

• Primary schools- known as "escuelas de primeras letras"
• Secondary schools - for learning higher preparation university studies.
• Seminaries-dedicated to train and for priests and future religious leaders.
• Universities-highest level of education.

CONCEPT OF A HERO

The term "hero" is derived from the Greek word for hero or warrior, which means protector or defender. Mostly, it refers to men and their acts which resonate with the Greek mythology. It refers to the persons of great courage and strength, celebrated for their bold exploits, and to individuals known for "feats of courage or nobility of purpose," or prominent people known for their achievements (Goethals and Allison, 2012).

Hero in Filipino Culture

Hero is normally defined here as an illustrious man, often of divine descent, or with distinguished valor or enterprise in danger, and fortitude in suffering, who is supposed to be exalted after death. Being an extraordinary person and individualistic is apparent.

According to William Henry Scott, pangangayaw was done because of four reasons, namely:

1. To secure resources, ranging from the occasional use goods or bounty to human slaves;
2. To avenge a personal affront in family honor;
3. To fulfill mourning requirements to which the life of enemies must be sacrificed; and lastly
4. For personal prominence or a mercenary reward.

• It is important to point out that a Bayani does not work alone; he or she always exerts efforts together with his/her comrades in the community. Hence the root word of Bayani is Bayan (community/town/nation).
• The tattoo, used as the protection of kaluluwa (soul) of a Bayani, his kris/kampilan (weapon), his putong (head gear), and other garments colored red are his iconic physical features.

The Boxer Codex (1590), an ancient document about the early Philippine societies, defines a Bayani as a person with high status and dignity.

Pedro Serrano Laktaw, in his dictionary, elaborates on the characteristics of a Bayani as someone who is fearless (walang-takot), courageous (matapang), firm (matibay), bold (mapangahas) yet quiet (tahimik) and calm (mahinahon)

PHILIPPINE HEROES

In the Philippine context, a hero means a prominent or central personage taking an admirable part in any remarkable action or event; a person of distinguished valor or enterprise in danger, or fortitude in suffering; and a man honored after death by public worship because of exceptional service to mankind.

It is bound with the understanding that the true heroes of Philippine history deserve to have this title, for they didn't have any idea that one day they will be given recognition, as to the stand that they just acted upon their principles (Ocampo, 1960).

HOW TO BE A HERO

The concept of honoring heroes came only to the Philippines in 1900 when the Philippine Commission (Pardo de Tavera, Legarda, Luzurriaga (Filipino members) and headed by William Howard Taft) approved Act No. 137 combining the districts of Morong and Manila to be named as "Province of Rizal," in honor of the most illustrious Filipino. This act was uncertain to most Filipinos but the basis of the Commission was so strong that it has surpassed the public's questions (Galang, 2012).

Criteria for recognizing Heroes (NHCP)

A hero is a social construct. Since that is the nature of the process, recognizing heroes is always subjective. To bridge the gap, the National Historical Commission of the Philippines (NHCP) released some of the criteria for recognizing heroes, through their Project Saysay. The criteria are listed below:

NATIONAL HISTORICAL COMMISSIONOF THE PHILIPPINES NHCP CODIFIES CRITERIA FOR A HERO

The National Historical Commission of the Philippines (NHCP) Board of Commissioners has issued a resolution adopting the criteria to be declared a "hero." According to NHCP Board Resolution No. 21, Series of 2023, the NHCP is recognizing codified criteria of a hero set forth by the Philippine Historical Committee and the National Heroes Commission in 1965, and by the Technical Committee of the National Heroes Committee in 1993 and 1995. The Commission has been using the said criteria in identifying personages of historical significance, which the Board of Commissioners have officially codified in a resolution signed in 13 December 2023. It should be noted that while it was inspired by the criteria set by the predecessor committees, modifications were also made by the Board of Commissioners.

However, the NHCP stressed that the adoption of the criteria will not lead to the officialization of heroes, and maintains the philosophy that the hero is a product of public acclaim and time, and should not be legislated.

CODIFIED CRITERIA DEFINING A HERO

1.The extent of a person's sacrifices for the welfare of the country.

2. The motive and methods employed in the attainment of the ideal (welfare of the country).

a. In the attainment of the ideal, did the person concerned sacrifice purely and reclusively for the welfare of the country or was there any selfish or ulterior motive in making such sacrifices? Were the methods employed in the attainment of the ideal morally valid?

3.The moral character of the person concerned.

a.Did he do anything immoral to taint his personal character? If there was any immorality, how far did it affect his work or society or the ideal?

4.The influence of the person concerned on his age and/or the succeeding age.

5. Heroes are those who have a concept of a nation and thereafter aspire and struggle for the nation's freedom.

a. Our own struggle for freedom was begun by Bonifacio and finished by Aguinaldo, the latter formally declaring the revolution's success. In reality, however, a revolution has no end. Revolutions are only the beginning. One cannot aspire to be free only to sink back into bondage.

6.Heroes are those who define and contribute to a system or life of freedom and order for a nation. Freedom without order will only lead to anarchy.

a. In its 13 December 2023 meeting, the NHCP Board of Commissioners shortened this item.

7. Heroes are those who contribute to the quality of life and destiny of a nation.

8. A hero is part of the people's expression.

a.But the process of a people's internalization of a hero's life and works takes time, with the youth forming a part of the internalization.

9. A hero thinks of the future, especially the future generations.

10. The choice of a hero involves not only the recounting of an episode or events in history, but of the entire process that made this particular person a hero.

RIZAL AS FILIPINO HERO

Rizal Day is commemorated every December 30. The origin of this commemoration came from the decree issued by General Emilio Aguinaldo on December 20, 1898. It declared the 30th day of December as a national mourning day in honor of Dr. Jose Rizal and other victims of the Philippine Revolution. Though Aguinaldo's decree did not specifically declare Rizal as a national hero, it was a tribute to his heroism.

Historical heroes are considered real—those who lived in a situation that called for their heroic deed and performed a task for their own country. Mythical heroes are those who have been nothing but symbols. Fictional heroes are those who feature only in the literature of later days.

Classification of Heroes

Pre-colonial heroes

-These heroes were presented as the mystical character, participating in drastic events and belonging to imaginary societies.

1. Epic Hero – usually found in the fictional tales of the early Filipinos. They are characterized as saviors of their communities and threat to the enemy tribes.
2. Mythical hero – usually represents the culture and the values of a specific group of people from a specific time frame (Scott, 1988)

Colonial Heroes

- The first heroes to carry out an organized resistance against the Spanish government and other colonial regimes for centuries. The main thrust of their struggle is the following religious, economic, and political freedoms.

1. Revolutionary heroes - these are people who led revolts and fight against the colonial regime to attain complete freedom. They were guided by a belief in autonomy and self-governance.

2.Known heroes - also called popular heroes due to their remarkable contribution to the resistance against the Spanish. They are known for their excellent leadership, skills, courage, and any unwavering will.

3.Unknown heroes - also known as unsung heroes, though they contributed significantly in the certain stages of the revolution, they remained unrecognized due to academic and political reasons.

4. Martyrs - these are the people who courageously faced brutal death or punishment at the hands of rival to fight for their beliefs. They are considered threats to the Spanish regime. Most of them were sent to the public places (ex. Plaza) and executed by garrote or by a firing squad.

Post-Colonial Heroes

- They are called "postwar heroes," honored men who displayed "heroic qualities" even after the colonial era. Thus, they are categorized as political heroes. They often criticize the current political system. As a result, they are regarded as state enemies and become victims of state violence.

1.Idealistic heroes - they are the advocates of idealism. They believe in the peaceful means of effecting changes and reforms in the society. They choose intellect over violence

2. Realistic heroes - they are more practical and preferred immediate solutions to resolve the existing social and political problems. They believe in radical methods and reject moderate and centrist stand.

Modern Day Heroes

- These are heroes in a post-colonial era were global harmony and freedom exist. Instead of resolving the issue through extremism, these heroes express their heroism differently.

Accidental Heroes

- These are the individual who got involved in a risky situation without a concrete plan before the event. They become heroes unintentionally, by acting out of the needs of the situation.

CHAPTER 1 : Jose Rizal Family

Dr. Jose Protacio Rizal Mercado Y Alonzo Realonda - Born legitimate son of Francisco Mercado and Teodora Alonso on June 19, 1861 between 11 and 12 in the evening. Physician (ophthalmic surgeon), poet, dramatist, essayist, novelist, historian, architect, painter, sculptor, educator linguist, musician, naturalist, ethnologist, surveyor, engineer, farmer businessman, economist, geographer, cartographer, bibliophile, philologist, grammarian, folklorist, philosopher, translator, inventor, magician, humorist, satirist, polemicist, sportsman, traveler and prophet. A Hero and Political Martyr.

- Southwest shore of the picturesque Laguna de Bay, some forty miles south of Manila.
- His mother almost died during the delivery because of his big head
- Baptized in the Catholic church on June 22, aged 3 days old
- His mother chose 'Jose' because she is a devotee of St. Joseph

Father Rufino Collantes(Kura Paroko)

- Baptized Jose Rizal who is also a Batangueno
- Noticed the big head of Jose and said "Alagaan ninyo ang batang ito, balang araw ay magiging dakila siya."
- Pedro Casanas, a native of Calamba and friend of Rizal's family, stood as Rizal's godfather.

Tinyente jose lemery (Governor-General of the Philippines from February 2, 1861 - July 8, 1862.)

- Former Senator of Spain
- At the time when Jose Rizal was born, he sent a letter to Ministrong Digma and Ministrong Utamar in Madrid. It contains his criticism to Sultan Pulalun of Sulu and other powerful Muslim Datus on their friendship to English Consul.
- He established cotton farms "Pamahalaang Politiko-Militar" in Visayas and Mindanao.

ANCESTORS

Mercado Clan

- Domingo Lamco (Cue Yi-Lam)- Jose Rizal's great-great grandfather.
- Came from district of Chinchew, in Province of Fookien, China.
- His parents are Siong-Co and Jun-nio and arrived in Manila, 1690. He is married to Inez Dela Rosa
- Adopted the surname of 'Mercado' in 1731 due to being a merchant and to free the younger generation from the prejudices that followed those with a

Chinese name. Appointed municipal captain of Binan in 1738

- Inez Dela Rosa- Jose Rizal's great-great grandmother Chinese Mestiza from Binan. Daughter of Jacinta Rafaela and Agustin Chinco

- They had children named Francisco and Josefa.

- Francisco Mercado (1731; great grandfather of Jose Rizal)- son of Domingo Lamco and Inez Dela Rosa

- Settled in Binan and Married to Bernarda Monica
- Had two children named Juan and Clemente

- Juan Mercado (grandfather of Jose Rizal)- son of Francisco Mercado and Bernardo Monica Served as capitan municipal of Binan, who had been the Gobernadorcillo or Mayor Binan Married to Cirila Alejandra and had 13 children; one of them is Rizal's father, Francisco.

Alonso Clan

- Eugenio Ursua- married to Benigna (unidentified surname), a daughter of Japanese ancestry Eugenio Ursua is believed to be a descendant of Lakandula, the last King of Tondo

- Regina Ursua- daughter of Eugenio and Benigna Ursua. Married to Manuel Facundo de Quintos. Had 4 children including Brigida de Quintos, mother of Teodora

- Brigida de Quintos- child of Regina and Manuel de Quintos Married to Lorenzo Alberto Alonso.
  - Had children namely: Narcisa, Teodora, Gregorio, Manuel, and Jose

- Lorenzo Alberto Alonso- popular Spanish-Filipino mestizo Father of Teodora Alonso

ORIGIN OF RIZAL

Governor-General Narciso Claveria issued a decree, requiring Indios to adopt Spanish names Mercados of Calamba chose 'Rizal', however, their original application was for the name 'Ricial' (green of young growth or green fields) but was denied

- Was given by a Spanish alcalde mayor of Laguna, who was a family friend.

RIZAL'S FAMILY

- francisco mercado y chinco

- May 11, 1818 in Binan, Laguna
- Died : January 5, 1898 in Manila
- at the age of 80
- A tenant-farmer of the Dominican-owned hacienda.

Most Well Known For:

A "Huwarang ng mga Ama" according to Rizal He studied Latin and Philosophy at the College of San Jose in Manila. Named after his grandfather.

- teodora alonso quintos realonda

- November 8, 1826 in Manila
- Died: August 18, 1911 in Manila at the age of 85
- A vigorious and persevering woman with a benevolent heart and a likable personality.
- Educated at College of Santa Rosa, well known college for girls.
- Had the most striking personality.
- Devout Catholic

- Being the first black woman millionaire in America

➢ saturnina (1850-1913)

- Oldest of Rizal Children
- Neneng
- Married to Hidalgo of Tanauan, Batangas

➢ paciano (1850-1930)

- Older brother
- 2nd father figure of Jose
- General
- Had 2 children (boy and girl) from his mistress Severina Decena

➢ narcisa (1852-1939)

- Sisa
- Married to Antonio Lopez, a school teacher in Morong.

➢ olympia (1855-1877)

- Ypia
- Married to Silvestre Ubaldo, a telegraph operator from Manila
- Died of childbirth

➢ lucia (1857-1919)

- Married to Mariano Herbosa, a Batangueno Farmer
- Mariano Herbosa is nephew of Father Casanas

➢ Maria (1859-1945)

- Biang
- Married to Daniel Cruz of Binan, Laguna

➢ Jose (1861-1896)

- Pepe
- In Dapitan, he lived with Josephine Bracken, Irish girl from Hong Kong.
- Had a son with her but died few hours after birth. Named the son as Francisco.

➢ concepcion (1862-1865)

- Concha
- she died at the age of three.
- Rizal's first sorrow

➢ josefa (1865-1945)

- Panggoy
- She died unmarried at the age of 80

➢ trinidad (1865-1951)

- Trining
- Died unmarried at the age of 83

➢ soledad (1870-1919)

- Choleng
- Married Pantaleon Quintero of Calamba

RIZAL'S HOME

- Two storey building, rectangular in shape
- Built in adobe stones and hard wood and roofed with red tiles
- Describe by Rafael Palma (biographer)
- Behind the house was a poultry yard full of turkeys and chickens and a big garden of tropical fruits middle-class family

- The Rizal family belonged to the Principalia
- A town aristocracy in Spanish Philippines
- One of the distinguished families in Calamba

- From the farms, which were rented from Dominican Order, they harvested rice, corn and sugarcane.
- The owned a carriage, which was a status symbol of the illustrados in Spanish Philippines
- A private library (the largest in Calamba which consisted of more then 1,000 volumes.

home life of rizals

- The Rizal family had a simple, contented, and happy life.
- Both parents never spoiled their children.
- They were strict parents and they trained their children to love God, behave well, to be obedient, and to respect people especially old folks.
- The believed in the maxim: "Spare the rod and spoil the child"

- They heard Mass in the town church particularly Sundays
- They prayed together daily at home then after the prayer all the children kiss the hands of their parents.

CHILDHOOD YEARS IN CALAMBA

- Calamba (The hero's town) was an hacienda town which belong to the Dominican Order
- To the south looms Mount Makiling
- Beyond the mountain is the province of Batangas
- East of the town is the Laguna de Bay
- North is the distant Antipolo
- Rizal loved Calamba with all his heart and soul.
- When he was 15 years old and a student in Ateneo de Manila, he remembered his beloved town.
- Wrote a poem: "Un Recuerdo A Mi Pueblo" (In Memory of My Town)
- His brothers and sisters called him 'Ute'
- Townspeople called him 'Pepe' or 'Pepito'

EARLIEST CHILDHOOD MEMORY

His first memory in his infancy was his happy days in the family garden when he was 3 years old. An aya (nursemaid)was employed to look after his comfort because he was a frail,sickly and undersized child. The aya related to the Rizal children many stories about fairies, legends and folklore like asuang,the nuno,the tigbalang.

Another childhood memory was the daily Angelus prayers. Another memory of his infancy was the walk in the town especially when there was a moon.

FIRST SORROW (Concha)

Of his sisters, Jose loved most the little Concepcion. Unfortunately, Concha died of sickness in 1865 when She was only 3 years old. The death of Concepcion brought him his first Sorrow in life.

DEVOTION (Son of the Church)

- At the age of 3, he began to take part in the family prayers.
- He was so seriously devoted that he was called Manong Jose.
- When he was 5 years old, he was able to read the Spanish Family Bible.
- One man he respected in Calamba was Father Leoncio Lopez, the town priest.

PILGRIMAGE (Antipolo)

- On June 6, 1868, Rizal and his father left Calamba to go on a pilgrimage to Antipolo in order to fulfill his mother's vow.
- It was his first trip across Laguna de Bay and his first pilgrimage to Antipolo.
- His mother gave birth to Trinidad.

- After praying, he and his father went to Manila to visit Saturnina at La Concordia College.